Seek Absent Father

Pathetic Letter Asks Chief of Police to Locate New London, Conn., Man

A rather pathetic letter has just been received by Chief of Police C. T. Goodis signed "Naomi Kaufman," 18 West Pleasant, New London, Conn. In which the writer, a thirteen year old girl, asks the chief to help her locate her father whom she says left home two weeks ago. The writer says both she and her mother believe the father in Alexandria.

She says she is the oldest of six children. Her mother has collapsed as a result of her father's absence she says and is getting weaker each day. Concluding she says "Now dear chief, I am a broken hearted little girl and ask you for my mamma's sake publish this in the Alexandria paper and maybe my dear papa might read it, come home or write to us and may this letter be the cause of God sending papa home to us. I am a little Christian and will pray for God to bless you."

Also inclosed is a letter addressed "My dear papa" in which the daughter implores her father to return or let the family hear from him.

Has Close Call

John Aitchison's Narrow Escape From Stray Bullet

John Aitchison, member of the firm of J. and H. Aitchison, machinists, 114 and 116 King street, had a very narrow escape from death by being struck by a stray bullet fired by an unknown party at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and Ernest M. Demaine, 819 King street, who was also in the office talking with Mr. Aitchison, was close by as the bullet whizzed past Mr. Aitchison's face, being only about an inch from striking him. Mr. Aitchison was sitting at his desk facing the south when the bullet came through the screen door and then passed out the front window.

Immediately after the affair an investigation was begun by Mr. Aitchison and also the members of the police to find some trace of the party guilty of firing the shot. All efforts, however, were unavailing and the opinion prevails that it was someone practicing in the alley in the rear of the Aitchison shops and that immediately after firing it they became frightened and ran away.

FISCHER GAVE BLAST WARNING

Reported to Have Said "I Hate The Morgans"

TOLD OF BLOW COMING

Fischer's Statement made in Philadelphia to Miss Hess—Said Blow up in Wall Street Would Occur

Philadelphia, Sept. 21.—"I'm Eddie Fischer, you may have heard of me, but if you haven't you will hear of me within the next few days. I hate the Morgans, and you will hear of something doing in Wall Street."

This was the warning given by Edward P. Fischer, former tennis star, now being detained in New York in the Wall Street explosion inquiry, to Miss Etta Hess, an employee of the Civil Service Commission in the City Hall early in the morning of September 11.

Upon the return to the city of Dr. Luther Terry, a dentist, of 3076 Frankford avenue, yesterday, it also became known that Fischer told the truth when he said he had visited the residence of Dr. Terry, on September 10.

Dr. Terry's wife is a second cousin of Fischer. When Dr. Terry reached home last night he found a note under his door in which Fischer said he regretted not finding the dentist in when he called. Dr. Terry said he has regarded Fischer as sane and never has heard him discuss telepathy and cannot see how he would have become involved in any plot of radicals.

Fischer's statement was made to Miss Hess on a Pennsylvania train leaving Philadelphia for New York at 4:30 a. m. With Miss Hess at the time was M. G. Hawkins, of Third street and Olney avenue, and Fischer's remarks also were heard by Francis Frank, of this city, who shared a seat in the coach with Fischer.

Miss Hess lives in Germantown, and with Hawkins was on her way to West Point, New York, to visit friends. They took the early train so as to connect with a Hudson River train to the military post.

"We were late in getting to the railroad station," said Miss Hess yesterday, "and when we boarded the train it was crowded. A tall, broad-shouldered man, who had a tennis racket in his lap, was occupying a seat in a coach. He noticed that Mr. Hawkins and I were looking for a seat together and he politely offered to give up his seat and take part of the one behind."

"With this as an introduction he began talking to us and to the man in the seat with him. He first asked where we were going and when I said, 'West Point,' he said he was there frequently and that if we were late he would see that the boat was held for us. He said he was in the government service."

"A few minutes later he presented us with cards engraved 'Mr. Edward P. Fischer.' It was then he said that he was Eddie Fischer, and if we didn't know him, we soon would hear about him. He persisted on talking and, Ernest M. Demaine, 819 King street, who was also in the office talking with Mr. Aitchison, was close by as the bullet whizzed past Mr. Aitchison's face, being only about an inch from striking him. Mr. Aitchison was sitting at his desk facing the south when the bullet came through the screen door and then passed out the front window."

"He then advised us not to be around New York. He said that something serious was going to happen there Wednesday or Thursday and said he was going to be as far away as possible."

"Then he said he would tell us something. We knew by this time that something was wrong with the man mentally, but we couldn't stop him from talking."

Miss Mildred K. Hellmuth Bride of Mr. E. E. Downham, 2nd.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at 11 o'clock this morning in St. Mary's Catholic Church by the Rev. Lawrence L. FRUITLESS SEARCH IN BOMB PLOT

Not One Tangible Clue to Perpetrator of Deed Found

ELIMINATE FISCHER

One Man Says He Saw Wagon in Street—Another Denies It. All Three Ran Away.

New York, Sept. 21.—Apparently every clue in the Wall street explosion has developed nothing. In spite of the fact that within a very short time after the tragically local detectives and Department of Justice agents, Detective William J. Burns and William J. Flynn, the head of the Secret Service, were on the scene nothing tangible, so far as known, has been developed.

An explosion that killed 35 persons, injured 200 and did $3,000,000 worth of damage in the very heart of the financial district at noon on a busy mid-week day, occurred, and so far that is apparently about all the combined detective forces of the city and nation know about it.

Statements by two men, one of whom claims to have seen the "death wagon" which carried the explosive standing near the Assay Office at 10:30 a. m. Thursday, one and one-half hours before the explosion occurred, and the other who claims to have seen three men running away from the scene just before the blast, furnished the most important developments today.

Other interesting developments included: Announcement by the District Attorney's office that Edwin P. Fischer, lawyer and former employee of the French High Commission, who sent post card warnings of the disaster from Toronto, had virtually eliminated himself from any direct knowledge or complicity in the case after eight hours' questioning.

Receipt of a warning by William Edwards, Collector of Internal Revenue, that an attempt would be made to destroy the Customs House at 2 p. m. tomorrow. This is regarded by the police as a hoax.

Identification of the hitherto unidentified body, previously believed as probably that of the driver of the explosive laden wagon, as that of Elmer W. Kehrer, an unemployed chauffeur, and lack of any evidence connecting him with the crime.

Release of Alexander Brailovsky, a Russian journalist, who was arrested on a technical charge of being an undesirable alien after he admitted having been seen in the vicinity of Broad and Wall streets shortly after the explosion took place.

Information that three suspicious looking men were seen running from the scene was furnished by Samuel R. Wellington, president of the West Indies Trading Company. He declared he left a lawyer's office in Wall street a few minutes before noon Thursday and as he did he heard voices calling: "Hurry! Look at it! Get out of this!"

He looked across the street and saw two middle-aged men, who looked to him like "East Side peddlers," beckoning and calling to a third man who was about 60 years old and who was then peering into the ramshackle wagon at the curb.

In response to the calls of the others the third man, Mr. Wellington said started to run after them toward Wall street. When he reached the corner of Nassau street he was knocked unconscious by the explosion.

At the conclusion of Fischer's examination tonight he was sent to the psychopathic ward of the Bellevue Hospital for observation. If adjudged insane, measures will be taken to have him committed to an insane asylum. It was announced by the District Attorney's office.

Detective Sergeant James Gegan, who accompanied Federal agents to Plum Island, declared he had found today a case of smokeless powder weighing 30 pounds in the bulk of an old boat at Plum Island. This was turned over to the authorities at Fort Lafayette.

William Peterson, 20 years old, Bogota, N. J., died at the Broad Street Hospital last night from injuries received in the Wall street explosion. He was the thirty-fifth victim.

$220,000 Forgery

Charges Hold Two

New York, Sept. 21.—Accused of misappropriating $220,000. Wesley Dorn, 25, and Vincent Amoroso, 34, were arrested today on complaint of the brokerage firm of Duff, Freiday and Company. Both men are held in $10,000 bail, specifically charged with grand larceny and forgery.

It is alleged that they obtained this sum of money by forging the names of customers of the firm to drafts.

Killed With "Toy Gun"

Ethel Baker, 17, Accident Victim When Brother Plays With Rifle

Unable to realize that he had accidentally killed his sister with his "toy gun," 6-year-old Ralph Baker last night stood dazed as he saw his father, George Baker, lay captain at Lorton, Va., Reformatory, and a small procession of friends carry the girl's body into their little home near Lorton.

Since the 17-year-old girl fell, mortally wounded, while playing in a lot close to the Baker cottage last Sunday afternoon, the boy has been crying over and over again, "I didn't mean to do it. I didn't mean to do it." (And all last night despite the comforting of his father, the pathetic little figure shook with the sobbing of that plea.)

An old revolver, rusty and long past use, has sometimes been the plaything of the boy, according to George Baker. Last Sunday afternoon while his father was at the reformatory, he found a .22-caliber rifle. Thinking it as harmless as his old toy, the boy playfully pointed the gun toward his sister and pulled the trigger. Ethel fell, blood streaming from the wound in her temple.

The girl was rushed to the Emergency Hospital, but died within a few hours.

The body was brought to Demaine's chapel and the funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Got An Ear For Sale?

Here's A Man Who'll Buy

New York, Sept. 20.—"I'll pay," says Frank S. Quesada, "two thousand dollars for a perfectly good ear. But it must be a perfect match to my right one."

Frank, son of a wealthy Cuban planter, has come to New York in his quest for a new hearing apparatus. A horse stepped on his left ear when he was 14. He wants to get married, and he's sensitive about the lack of facial adornment.

Doctors told him they would graft a new, live ear on his face for $2,000. Bids will be received at his apartment, 157 West Seventy-third street.

Squirrels Battle Snake

Feet Above Ground

Cumbersburg, Md., Sept. 20.—Track bands on the Romney branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad were attracted by a scuffle, on the limb of a large hickory tree, about 50 feet above the ground.

A big blacksnake was trying to kill a half-grown squirrel, while the mother squirrel tried to protect her young. A shot gun was procured by the time the snake had wounded the squirrel to squeeze it to death. R. L. Bassett fired and both snake and squirrel dropped dead to the ground.

The snake measured 6 feet 10 inches. The squirrel was half grown and white as snow.

REPUBLICAN SLUSH FUND.

Governor Cox charged that the Republicans planned to raise a great campaign fund of $15,000,000 which greatly exceeds all legitimate uses. He exhibited as evidence a list of 51 cities with various quotas which totaled well over $8,000,000, although these cities contain less than 10 per cent of the population of the United States. Cleveland, Ohio, was given a quota of $400,000; Washington, D. C., $50,000; Atlanta, Ga., $25,000; Newark, N. J., $100,000; Cincinnati, Ohio, $200,000.

Chairman Hays and Treasurer Upham, of the Republican National Committee, denied that any quotas had been fixed; they said they had prepared a budget of $3,000,000 or $4,000,000.

The Senatorial investigation committee, investigating campaign expenditures, has before it many witnesses, including Chairman Hays, Treasurer Upham and Harry M. Blair, the assistant to Treasurer Upham, who seems to be the chief of the "money diggers." The testimony of these gentlemen and others has developed:

1. That there was a list of quotas for 51 cities.

2. That Cleveland's quota of $400,000 was the exact amount named in the list given out by Governor Cox and denied by Chairman Hays. That Washington's quota was $50,000, the amount named in Governor Cox's list and denied by Chairman Hays. That Atlanta's quota was $25,000, as given in the list of Governor Cox, and denied by Chairman Hays; and Newark's and Cincinnati's quotas were the amounts named by Governor Cox and denied by Hays and Upham.

3. That Form 101 of the Official Bulletin, which the Republican officials testified had never been adopted and was withdrawn, was replaced by Form 102, which follows practically the same plan.

4. That a large and elaborate organization was formed to raise an enormous Republican slush fund.

5. That funds were not sought from men having charge of corporations.

The evidence is, of course, all in the Republican committee's hands, and yet, in the face of all this difficulty, Governor Cox has refused substantial and incontrovertible evidence that his charges are true and that if a thorough investigation is made the full truth of his charges will be completely proven.

WIGGLING AND WAGGLING.

Scholar Harding has wiggled and waggled eight times on the League of Nations question, says Governor Cox.

1. He voted with the mild reservationists.

2. Advocated the Lodge reservationists.

3. Voted for the Knox Resolution for a separate peace with Germany.

4. Accepted the Republican platform, which declares that the League of Nations has signally failed.

5. Proposed a separate peace with Germany and the "scrapping" of the League of Nations.

6. Advocated the restoration of the dead Hague Tribunal.

7. Says the League of Nations has passed beyond the possibility of restoration and has been abandoned by Europe.

8. States that "amendment of revision or reconstruction" of the league is still among the possibilities.

The Republican nominee has a difficult feat to perform. To ride into the Presidency on the shoulders of Johnson and Borah, and Lodge, and Penrose, and Taft, and Wickersham, and Rockefeller, and Hoover requires that he ride eight horses at once.

SAFETY FIRST ALWAYS!

Whether Walking or Driving

Cooperate With Others. They Have an Equal Right With You. Respect that right as you Expect them to Respect Yours.

Owners and Operators of Automobiles

Respect the rights of others. Remember that pedestrians have as much right as you. Always exercise care in passing crossings and street cars.

Users

of the

Sidewalks

REMEMBER

Pedestrians should give equal rights to others.

Stop, Look and Think "Safety" before you cross a congested street, or pass behind a street car, automobile or wagon. Always see what is on the other side of the object that you are passing.

Cross Streets always on the crosswalks. Go slow, look for an opening in the passing wagons and autos, then go quickly.

Don't start to go across the road until you know that it is safe, then keep going. Don't turn back.

Never rush across the road ahead of a car, auto or wagon. Take time, for perhaps an auto or wagon may be coming on the other side.

Look out for speeders and joy-riders. The fact that they may be violating the law will not make an injury any easier to bear.

Look both ways when crossing street. 'Tis the only safe way.

Being Sure Means Safety

Users

of the

Roadways

REMEMBER

Operators of trucks and motor cars should use great care in driving, especially so in congested districts and in the vicinity of schools.

Don't crowd pedestrians into a place of danger, with your motor car, truck or other vehicle.

Driving in street car tracks is dangerous and should be avoided.

Look out for Street Cars when crossing the tracks.

When you drive behind a street car, always look out for the other car as well as for any other vehicle.

When passing a street car, never do so by going on the left of it.

Before crossing railroad tracks use caution and know for a certainty that the way is clear.

Never pass a street car when passengers are being taken on or off.

All Users of the Streets---REMEMBER

The aged and the child. Give all concession to them that you can. Proceed in every way to make their passage as safe as possible. Keep in mind that you were a child once and that you will probably reach an advanced age yourself.

Face Forward, Please

Passengers alighting from street cars should never do so backward. Face the way the car is going for Safety.

Nail Down the Nails

Don't Leave Exposed Nails lying around in boards boxes. Last year 3,462 persons were injured in this manner in Massachusetts alone.

LOOK

Out for all

Danger Signals

and give due heed to them, that your progress may be made safer. Too much caution can't be used.

NEVER

Walk around

Lowered Gates

and do not crawl under them either. When the way is clear the crossing tender will raise them.

THINK

Along lines of

and caution, and you can go safely and without fear of personal injury overtaking you.

BIG DRAMA PLEASES

Across the English Channel, Gaenor Lisle, who had left Britain to avoid the army of reporters who followed her every footstep—was returning to London on a boat that had embarked from La Harve.

In France she had felt secure. The past with its poignant memories—had been left hundreds of miles behind. Gaenor had married, and on her honeymoon in Paris, where she should have tasted the full cup of happiness, the old haunting past loomed up, shattering to bits any hope for happiness.

Her husband had asked for an explanation, but how could she explain anything. Hadn't he read the papers? Didn't he remember Gaenor Lisle? How could she ever hope to refute the evidence the court had linked with her name. How could she dispel the lingering doubt that would inevitably cling to her. Rather than attempt an explanation Gaenor had left him. Soon she would be in London.

The mist of the channel fog had left the stairs of the companionway slippery and uncertain, and in going below "The Notorious Miss Lisle" slipped and fell to the lower deck unconscious. The unraveling of the threads that bound the girl to the unpleasant sobriquet, entangles some of the most unusual and unexpected incidents in this latest First National Attraction, "The Notorious Miss Lisle" which will be shown at the Richmond Theatre tonight.

REDS AND YELLOWS CLASH

Uproar Reigns at Meeting of Mexican Communist Congress. Mexico City, Sunday, Sept. 19.—Confusion reigned at tonight's meeting of the communist congress of the Mexican proletariat when, during a sharp debate some one fired a pistol into the air. There were no casualties, but the meeting soon adjourned. An element known as the "yellows," which opposes the radical principles, advocated by the "reds," became involved in exchanges with extremist speakers, and disorder prevailed.

Several members of the American Federation of Labor, who are visiting this city, attended the meeting and were placed in an awkward position when several orators denounced their organization.

SAILORS DRINK SHELLAC

Shipper Says They Acted Oddly, But Showed No Ill Effects.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 20.—The tanker Rapidan, carrying 3,400,000 gallons of oil, arrived in port today from Port Lobos and the master, Capt. C. Beckman, describes an incident that occurred on the voyage.

"I noticed that some of the crew were acting peculiarly," he said, "and I investigated. I learned that six gallons of shellac which we had aboard had dwindled to one gallon. After questioning the men I learned they had used the shellac as a beverage. What astounds me is that none of the men suffered any ill effects."

Alsace Boon in Leather

With the return of Alsace it is estimated that France's annual productive capacity for sole leather is increased by 750,000 to 900,000 sides. No tanneries are located in Lorraine.

Forecaster of Explosion

Known to Frisco Police

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Duncan Mathewson, captain of detectives here, announced today he was in possession of the name of a man who declared to have predicted, several days before the New York bomb outrage that would be "a big explosion" in Wall street "on the fifteenth."

Mathewson said his informant was a disabled soldier and that the man

$400,000 in Securities Blown From Boy's Hands

Through 3d-Story Window New York, Sept. 21.—One of the "frank" happenings of the Wall street explosion became known today when a Wall street brokerage firm reported that a package containing $400,000 worth of securities was blown from the hands of its messenger, who was near the scene, through the third story window of another firm.

When the messenger, who was knocked down but uninjured, regained his senses he notified his office of the loss. Fifteen minutes later, the firm was notified that the securities had been blown into the shattered window of a stock exchange firm at 7 Wall street and were safe.

EVEN THE
WERE TIRED that morning
AND THE coffee

BUT WHEN after breakfast
MY CIGARETTE tasted awful
IT WAS too much.
AND A grinch started.
AND WALKING to work
I SWORE off smoking.
AND DECIDED to fire
MY OFFICE boy.
BUT JUST before I decided
TO KILL a policeman.
A MAN passed me.
SMOKING A cigarette.
AND SAY but the smoke
THAT DRIFTED back.
DID SMELL good.
AND I followed him
INTO A store.
HE THREW down two dimes
AND SAID "The same."
AND SO did I.
AND SO I kept that
OFFICE BOY and I let that
HANDSOME POLICEMAN live.
AND I'M going to boost
THAT MAN I followed.
FOR PRESIDENT or something.
FOR REALLY these cigarettes
DO SATISFY.

JUST a whiff of that spicy aroma of

MAINE WOMEN VOTERS NOT COMPELLED TO TELL AGE

Portland, Maine, Sept. 21.—The Supreme Court today decided that a woman should not be required to tell her age in order to qualify as a voter.

In a writ of mandamus issued by Justice Scott Wilson, the local Board of Registration was ordered to enroll Mrs. Elizabeth Alden Holman "regardless of the fact that she refused to give the exact date of her birth or her exact age." The writ is returnable on October 6, when the registrars will be heard if they wish to oppose the order.

Mrs. Holman was refused enrollment on September 4, when she insisted that it was sufficient for her, or any woman, to describe her age as "over 21 years." She announced her intention of making a test case on the issue.

Knights Of Columbus Back From French Pilgrimage

New York, Sept. 21.—The French liner Lafayette brought in from Havre last night 101 delegates of the Knights of Columbus, who went abroad recently to present to the city of Metz a bronze statue of Lafayette. It was the largest group of the fraternity to return since the ending of the pilgrimage to Metz.

Wants To Be First To Say "Hello" To Man In Moon

New York, Sept. 21.—When Capt. Charles N. Fitzgerald, of the New York air police, read today that Prof. Robert P. Goddard, of Clark University, is still talking about sending a rocket to the moon, he hurried to Park Row to see about getting an Annie Oakley for the trip.

Captain Fitzgerald explained that he is anxious to be the first passenger on the world-moon route and the first visitor to say "Hello" to the man in the moon, but has met difficulties in making his reservations.

"I've been down to Washington to try to see Professor Goddard, at the Smithsonian Institute, several times, but they wouldn't let me get to him," said the Captain. "They seem to think I'm some sort of a nut."

"I'll do anything anywhere," the Captain went on, "and since I can't talk to Professor Goddard personally, I want to volunteer so that it will come to his attention."

Clerk, Unnerved by Blast, Leaps to Death From Roof

New York, Sept. 21.—Frederick M. Carpenter, aged 32, a bank clerk, suffering from shattered nerves as a result of his experience in the Wall Street explosion, jumped to his death today from the roof of the National City Bank, 55 Wall Street, near the scene of the blast.

Carpenter was returning to the bank from lunch when the explosion occurred. He collapsed, was carried into the bank and later sent out of the city to recuperate. He returned to work today.

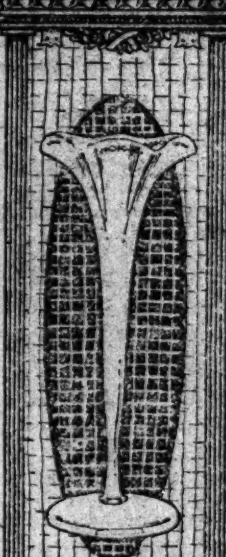

COUNTRY ON SOUND BASIS

Political Conditions, For The Moment Favor Republican Party

Baltimore, Sept. 21.—Franklin K. Lane, former Secretary of the Interior, yesterday issued a statement, making public a summary of what he calls "the first comprehensive, carefully made and approximately accurate picture of industrial, agricultural, financial and political conditions throughout the United States."

It discovers in the foreground, he says, that both major political parties have overlooked the greatest issue in the public mind; which is the cost of living. It also shows, he states, that the country is on a sound economic basis, with the wave of extravagance subsiding, saving increasing, wholesalers and retailers optimistic over the winter outlook, and a growing disposition for hard work, although the individual productivity of labor is not showing much evidence of increase.
